FIRE SHOWER

An open house fire shower commencing at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow, Friday, at the residence of Mrs. Paul Loup 620 Central Avenue, Waveland, has been scheduled to collect the many items of clothing, bedding, etc., being offered to the M.L. Heathington family who lost all their possessions in a fire on Monday.

It looks like this will be followed this weekend by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for removal of debris washed into Hancock County's beaches by Hurricane Betsy.

corps' engineering division for the Mobile district said if requirements are fulfilled, a memorandum will be made today or Friday, thus halting high water. Joseph Hutton of the equipment should be moved in to start the work before Christmas.

George Wier, county engineer, was directed to draw up a bid proposal map the disposal area agreed on and Leander M. Cox, attorney, to advise range for right of way and costs for the haul road into Jackson Ridge where the work will be taken.

Meanwhile Delph Keller as president pro tem of the supervisors signed a letter to the Mobile district concerning that the area to be cleared runs 200 feet out from the seawall, involving the U.S. from damage to pavements, sidewalks, private property, etc., in the clean-up operation and making final division of the debris the county's responsibility.

At least 10 acres are to be provided at the once in which to put the debris and Hutton said he would delay seeking bids until it is properly suited so there will be no confusion in negotiating with bidders.

Hutton was skeptical that the Jackson Ridge area proposed by County Sanitarian Wayne Alston would be adequate for the needs. The section east of the haul road contained only about four suitable acre and at least 15 would be needed, he declared. It was finally agreed that if some timber were removed from the 16th Section tract closer to the beach some 10 acres would be available promptly and the corps would proceed.

Betsy chops rolls

Buildings mix loss

The havoc wrought by Hurricane Betsy is becoming increasingly apparent to the Tax Assessor George Heitzmann as he starts checking Waveland property in preparing the 1966 land rolls.

Eighteen houses, representing an assessment of about $36,000, were destroyed in one square block of Waveland bounded by Bourgeois Street, Coleman and Terraces Avenues and Beach Blvd. Heitzmann has not started west of Coleman Avenue yet.

But helping to offset this loss are an estimated 40 new homes in three subdivisions which should be ready to go on the rolls for next year.

On Lafitte Drive there are 12 to be assessed for 1966, three which already are on the books and one not yet finished.

Whispering Pines has three new homes completed, plus a swimming pool and bath house and three others under construction. In Pine Ridge Park sub-division permits have been issued for 22 new homes and Heitzmann expects to find 99 per cent of these have materialized this year.

From his rounds so far, Heitzmann estimated he has removed at least 150 houses from the 1966 land rolls. Many are small like the fishing camps in the Asley area but in all they will probably run to $100,000 or $6,000 in county taxes, enough, he observed, for two teachers' pay.

The assessor explained he is removing all houses not habitable. Many persons have reported their losses directly to his office which has simplified the job of checking out each.

On the other hand, considerable damage has already been a complicated in repairing dwellings damaged by Betsy, the assessor reported.

MTF's $8,000 near UF in-county total

With over 90% participation, personnel at the Mississippi Test Facility contributed to Hancock County United Fund almost as much as the remainder of the county. Wrap-up figures at MTF Monday showed a total of $41,993 in contributions of which $8,335 was designated for Hancock County. In addition, $4,637 was designated for various health agencies.

While figures are not complete for the rest of the county, it appears that their contribution to the United Fund will be about $9,000.

Jackson M. Balch, MTF Manager chairman of the shewa campaign, said he was "deeply gratified by the response of the MTF employees", and the success of the drive "is heartening proof of the continuing moving spirit of man's humanity to man."

Merry-go-round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON - Public opinion polls show a drop in President Johnson's popularity.

There's been a clear public reaction to several LBJ performances recently ranging from his showing the state of the operation to humans through the White House doors when Viet Nam casualties were running high, from the long Presidential way in Texas to the growing public realization that the two sides involved in a long, costly, bloody stalemate in Viet Nam similar to the Korean War which helped turn the public against the Democrats and to other Presidents Eisenhower.

Adding to the dimensions has been the fact that the program of bombing the President's most popular areas of positive accomplishment has been suspended.

The war in Viet Nam is the outstanding liability. When President ordered the bombing of North Viet Nam nearly a year ago, there was hope that it might speed the conflict's ending. Instead it has gone worse and the presence of large numbers of great North Vietnamese troops in South Viet Nam proves that our bombing the transportation route has not worked.

Further, we are losing friends rapidly in South Viet Nam. Our combat forces strengthen the pro-American forces and occasionally kill their own people; our bombing of Saigon is Saigon's way of the restaurants and night clubs.

The growing number of U.S. bonds cancellation is mounting more and more families; in addition there are hundreds of other families not in war but to disperse such as families.

At the same time, the poverty and corruption in Viet Nam are getting no better. Confidential reports to Washington say that top Vietnamese officials still are more interested in living luxuriously than fighting the enemy, and that graft is worse than ever, while the people as a whole are as poverty-stricken as ever.

As a result of the unpopularity of the U.S. as well as the South Vietnamese government, it is almost certain that if it were put to a vote, the people of South Viet Nam would overwhelmingly choose the North.

In short, the administration is becoming increasingly fearful that we are in a can't-win situation—the very situation which U.S. military strategists, including General Eisenhower, worked against so long and so strongly. We are bogged down in the swamps of Asia, with no way out except disastrous retreat, and because LBJ was too quick on the trigger when he took the advice of some Pentagon strategists to send U.S. combat forces to Viet Nam.

Steelworkers revenge

The Abel wing of the United Steelworkers is cracking down on members of the U.S. who supported Dave McDonald. For example, Abel members have recently given notice to the Tampa office of the Steelworkers to close up. Four union officials have been transferred, and the secretary, Mrs. Agnes Vaughan, has been fired. She was very active in working for Dave McDonald, and Dave McDonald lost the election.

If U.S. Steel or Bethlehem fired any member for such activity, the union probably would declare a strike.

Soviet missiles

The Navy and Air Forces are pleased over their deadly war with Soviet missiles in North Viet Nam, despite the loss of eight planes.

In the beginning it was feared our pilots would never be able to dodge the lightning-fast, radar-guided missiles. However, they have successfully used counter-electronic measures to jam the missiles' radar.

As a result, our planes have managed to evade more than 100 of the supposedly invincible Soviet missiles.

We have at least learned this much beneficial information from the war in Viet Nam.

Ho Chi Minh adamant

The letter which Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam sent to Dr. Liane Paull regarding peace talks bears out what the Russian reporter recently to French Foreign Minister George de Murville.

The Russians said they found Ho Chi Minh obstinately against peace, though they tried to persuade him that the Americans would not withdraw until they had won a victory.

Ho Chi Minh firmly told both the Russians and Dr. Liane Paull that North Viet Nam will not stop fighting until American troops are withdrawn.

The U.S. has not received one definite peace offer since we started bombing the North. Prior to that there were several. But the bombing of North Viet Nam appears to have stiffened communist resistance just as Hitler's bombing of London stiffened the British will to fight in World War II.

As a result, most diplomatic observers are convinced that the military recommendations to Johnson to bomb North Viet Nam was the worst piece of advice he ever got.

Luxury cruise ships

Three months ago, the Maritime Administration prepared a list of 34 luxury passenger ships which didn't meet the latest safety standards adopted in 1960. Most of the ships had too much wood paneling and inflammable furnishings.

Now the top of the list was the Yarmouth Castle, which burned at sea recently. The Bahama Star, which received most of the survivors, was also on the danger list.

So were such famous ships as Britain's Queen Elizabeth, Germany's Bremen, Holland's Nieuw Amsterdam, and Sweden's Gripsholm.

Merry-go-round

The federal grand jury which has been investigating Bobby Baker for a year and a half has refused to hear any testimony on call girls or campaign contributions. This rules out most of the evidence that might embarrass members of Congress. . . . White House insiders are whispering that President Johnson may move Secretary of Defense McNamara into the White House, possibly to McGovern's place, as a function of his recent Deputy President. Bundy has been offered the $75,000-a-year job of running the Ford Foundation. . . . Congress will get the bill for the eight-car special train which hauled former President Eisenhower from Augusta, Ga., to Washington for treatment at Walter Reed Army Hospital. The cost of providing this with a special train will be put on the Army's railroad account, since he is a five-star general. . . . When Congress recesses, President Johnson will put right-to-work laws at the top of his legislative must list. This is to appeal labor leaders who complain the President let them down in the last session by not demanding passage of the bill. Next year, he is expected to do the same thing—when labor laws will be decided by the House members.

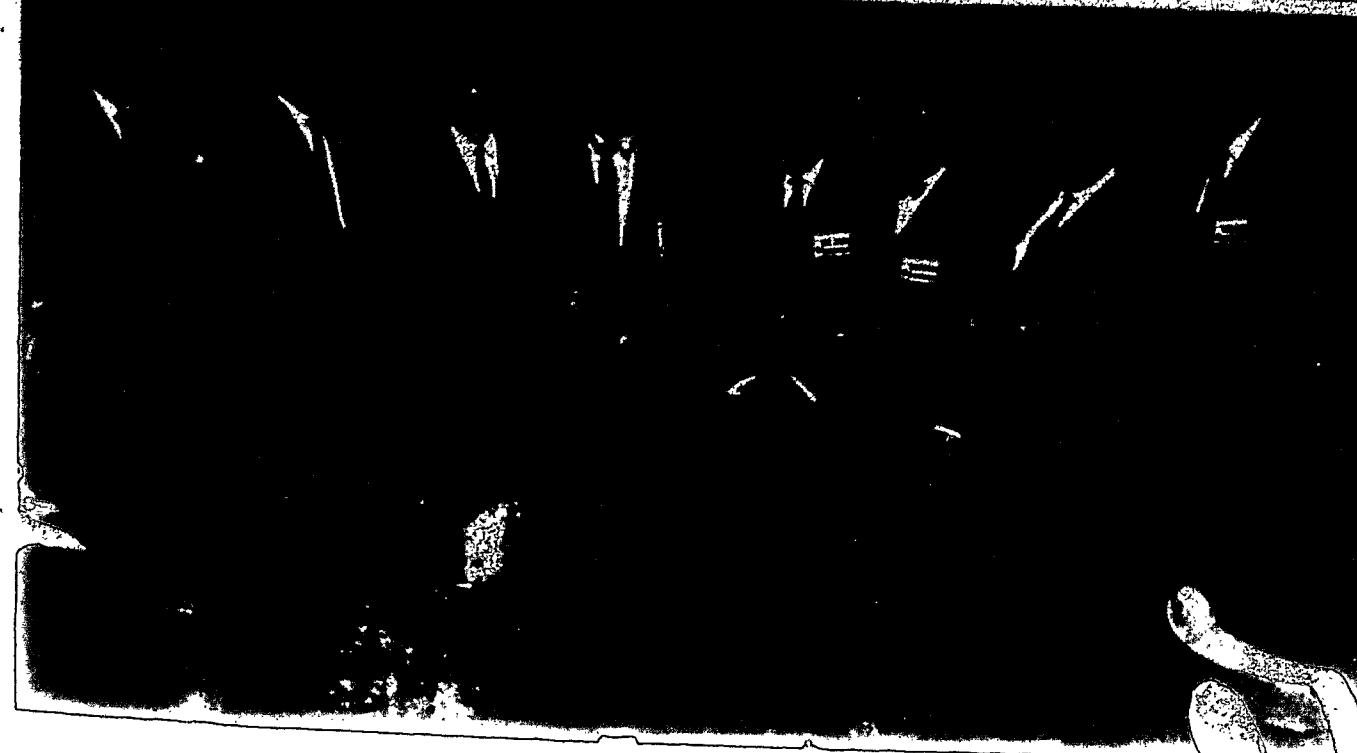

Now after only 65 years of white man's touchings the world over, I am very sorry to say, Uncle Sam are insisting that the white government eliminate itself and permit these negro voters whom are just emerging from slavery to take over and run this noble government that the white southerners have established.

using one of Mr. Drew Pearson's columns with much of which we disagree. It deals with the problem of Viet Nam and our participation in the war. We are doing so because there is no doubt there are two sides to the question. We happen to believe in one side.

At certain specific times this country's decisions were correct, we do not know nor do we feel Mr. Pearson knows. We do know that the only way to win a war is to win it.

While we hope we are not callous concerning human lives or the lives of the South Vietnamese we believe we are. We can only reiterate that the way to win a war is to win it. There is no second place.

Pro sport

At the time during the Army-Navy game Saturday night the most absurd statements relative to college football was made. With reference to the 50th anniversary of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the importance of college football was pointed out by the illustration of Justice Byron White, U.S. Supreme Court, as the OUTSTANDING example of college athletes holding public office. Whatever the abilities of Justice White's abilities as a justice, recall the Mayor John Scaife, what about the other eight justices and their many predecessors? If you're a collegiate probably near the bottom of your class.

Now we are on the subject of football, we want to add our opposition to the pressures by Tulane which forced the resignation of Coach Tommy O'Boyle. It is true L.S.U. clobbered them. It is equal to the L.S.U. team improved under O'Boyle.

Fire L.S.U.'s Charlie McLendon because he is to Ole Miss or Ole Miss' Johnny Vaught and Houston unexpectedly beat them.

It will be that more emphasis should be placed on physical fitness of our youth, but physical and professional football are not comparable.

It is also true that in watching on tv the college football games, one frequently learns of outstanding schools skip by one or maybe two of the starting team. If memory serves, one of Alabama's backs is the school's star in the field of astrophysics. On the other hand, you can hardly fail to be impressed by the of these footbatters who are physical education students.

His emphasis on football seems way beyond even if the average alumnus pants for his team's victory. Our own alma mater, Washington University, fourteen years ago, just after the Gator Bowl, caught a major portion of the football team cheating just as the Air Force did last year.

The ethics of this were essentially good. An all-white team never really in the big leagues and a small school was returned to pure class. While at first attendance at its games dropped mostly with schools with similar facilities, dropped way down, in a year of academic at W and L's football games as high as ever.

Opponents of Tulane's almost amateur status, think the recent discharge of O'Boyle to continue this policy.

For thought
Howard Gibson's notable work "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" is probably the most authentically and discerning book on that subject ever written, accepted as an authority.

He listed the following requirements for the end of the

The rapid increase of divorce; the undermining of authority and authority of the home, which is the basis of society.

Higher and higher taxes and the spending of public money for hospitals and clinics for the populace.

The more we pleasure; sports becoming a building of gigantic circumferences when the money was within the circumference of the people.

The decay of religion, faith fading into mere form with life and becoming impotent to guide

There are many schoolmen who believe that history is dead, and that there is nothing really new in the field of human beings. They also think that we know the future. If we understand the past, we can predict the future in Washington, which is a frequent study. The Post

Youth openings cited

Keith Gilmore of the division of training and personnel of General Electric Co. spoke to students of Hancock North Central School Nov. 4 on The Opportunities Young People Can Open for Themselves in Mississippi.

Basically, he stated, there are the opportunities to do things which will create additional demand for them. He followed through with a discussion of the following topics:

Study to do much better than it has ever been done before; by you or anyone else.

Remember that you are your school—your company.

Act yourself every morning "What could I do today to be more effective?"

Be sure that you are always on the beam.

Be Congress in giving credit.

Welcome your troubles and profit from them.

Find something to like in everybody around you.

Keep reading.

Do a full day's work every day.

When a new plan or project is introduced, corporate enthusiasm.

Give your work a bit of thought when you are away from it.

Be on the lookout for short-cuts to efficiency.

"Give yourself away" to those around you.

Keep an eye out always for safety—all around you.

Help to develop a strong "WE" spirit in your school or organization.

Gilmore's talk was one of a series of career information sessions sponsored by Mrs. G. S. Kennedy, guidance counselor.

Anti air strip

Our readers write

Editor, Sea Coast Echo

Since I am one of the many taxpayers in Bay St. Louis I can only voice my own personal views on events, the most immediate of these being the proposed airfield.

Personally, this project strikes me as the proposition of a little boy wearing his daddy's shoes. If we are so naive as to use up our resources in making the taxpayers funds himself able to bear, where is the more demanding project of street repairs and widening to be fitted in?

What happened to the proposed helicopter landing strip adjacent to Hancock General Hospital? This seemed to me to be a needed item for the sake of emergency—but an airfield! I for one would rather have a bond issue of $5 million for the aforementioned street project than $1 million for an airfield that may or may not ever justify its existence.

Every country in the world has started hitching and threatening the little country of Rutherford because the present government refused to give the four million negroes an equal vote.

To give them an equal vote would mean giving them the reins of the government and in a very limited time they could and would take over the billions of dollars worth of improvements that the white southerners have created in the last 25 years.

FOOD HAMPERS — The families in Bay area received unexpected surprise this Thanksgiving when St. Stanislaus students chipped in $135 to buy groceries for needy and deserving people. Project was sponsored by Sacred Heart Confraternity whose moderator, Brother Raymond Ruffino, is shown assisting in hamper packing. Students assisting with preparations are William Goodwin, left, Ron Goss and John Mouton.

Tax collection income among state's top 20

The income of Hancock County's sheriff-tax collector ranks 20th in gross receipts, 14th in expenses and 16th in net income among the 82 such offices reporting to the secretary of state for calendar 1964.

These figures are shown in a compilation compiled by the Mississippi Economic Council which is recommending that the offices of sheriff and tax collector be separated, the fee system for all law enforcement personnel paid on a salary basis and fees go into the county general fund.

Only 59 of the 82 counties reported these incomes for the calendar year 1964 as required by Sec. 4215 of the Mississippi Code.

Scaling employee participation in their Good Neighbor Fund Campaign at MTF was 97.2%. Contributions to the UF agencies in the communities where these employees reside amounted to $2,800. An additional check will be presented to the Greater New Orleans Fund on behalf of St. Tammany Parish residents at a later date.

Employees of North American Aviation S and D gave $3,000 to the agencies involved through their Donor Once Club. A corporate contribution of $2,000 was also given. Other contributions throughout the year are to be designated by the Donor Once Club.

Contractors with 100% of their employees participating included Acoron (a division of Acoron General), Video Corporation, Cess Brothers, Southern Cafeteria, The Ralph M. Parsons Company, H.R. Morgan Contractors, Bird Fire and Safety Service, and M and T Company.

A breakdown of the campaign results reveals Acoron/Video gave $484 Air Force Quality and US Weather Bureau, $334; Army Corps of Engineers, $1,232; Boeing, $2,000; General Electric Co., $10,210; subcontractors to GE, Allied-Nut, Bird Fire and Safety, Cess Brothers, Boeing-Qualcomm, Consolidated American Services, Harrison Drydock Agency, H.R. Morgan Contractors, M and T Company, Ralph M. Parsons Co., Space Services, Southern Cafeteria, James N. Traviss, $1,240 NASA/MTF, $2,010 and North American Aviation, $5,000.

In Hancock County the gross income was $46,978. Hinds County which embraces Jackson, the state capital, led with $239,070, while neighboring Harrison County ran second at $205,775. Isaacson with $17,669 had the lowest income reported. There was no listing for Lauderdale County with populous Meridian, nor for Pearl River County.

Hancock's expenses of the office were listed at $36,364.

Clean-up...

(Cont. from Page 1) to the dump was considered at length. While supervisors suggested the route run from Central to Sears Avenue, Waveland, and along the beach, Hunter declared because of damage to the seawall road the corps would not permit its use in this instance, even though it is possible. He noted that since this is a federal aid secondary strip, its use for the removal project might very well hurt the county's chances of getting assistance through the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads for its repair.

As it ended up the supervisors are to provide within two weeks an all-weather road to the dump, probably by raising South Street (between Waveland and Clermont Harbor) about one foot. The contractor will have to maintain it. John J. Kennedy, Jr., of the area engineer's staff at Mississippi Test Operations, noted that trucks have lots of water running out as they haul the debris and the present road would only handle about 10 loads before trucks get stuck.

Both he and Kollar recommended load limits to preserve as well as possible all streets used for hauling. It was agreed the contract is to specify a limit of 12 yard loads on dump trucks and six yards on single axles. Basically every street in Bay St. Louis an Waveland intersecting the beach will be used for hauling and major of both municipalities were called to sit in on this aspect of the discussion.

Use of about six acres on property owned by attorney Cox in the $10 block of South Beach, Bay St. Louis, was considered as a possible disposal area for some dry debris to cut down on hauling time to Jackson Ridge and because any dump must be within a 16-mile round trip radius. This plan was eventually discarded, however. Discussion also touched on the possibility of removing remaining damaged piers on about 50 feet.

Engineers voted concern about existing timber on the Jackson Ridge road or pending debris to close to the beach picnic section but an apparently satisfactory plan was worked out on that. The attorney is to draw an emergency resolution for having the timber cleared and getting a release from the county contract with the forestry commission on this 100' section.

Coastal plans provide for the contractor to put his equipment at all intersections with the beach road extending 100 feet in each direction along the beach and to haul out on all roads to General Aviation. The contractor is to be responsible for paying damages to those roads.

(Cont. from Page 1) said everything was a total loss. The house was covered by insurance but such would only partially pay rebuilding cost. The furnishings were not covered.

Today the Heatheringtons are temporarily living in another of the Leyaps' homes on Vacation Lane in Waveland. They are trying to salvage some of their possessions but figure they will be lucky if they find an extra change of clothes.

In spite of the terrible loss, Mrs. Heatherington managed a faint smile Thursday, saying: "I want to thank everyone for their help. I appreciate the interest shown in our family and I want everyone to know that I am so happy to be living in such a community".

Town marshal Fred Bourgeois and Waveland Volunteer Fire Department members said the fire apparently started in the

Letters to the Editor

What some men (who has passed the third grade) can possibly believe that there are 4,000,000 semi savages are capable of running a government and giving even partial justice to the white settlers who have made this country?

None of these leaders of ours and other countries believe this nonsense, but both the Communists and the Western governments are bidding for the support and votes of the many African nations in the General Assembly of the U.S.; and if one group capture these votes they will have a big advantage in controlling the world.

This leaves Rhodesia in the big middle and the news media the radio and broadcasters are going along with the program and condoning little Rhodesia.

When we, like the Rhodesians, were fighting for our freedom France for her own selfish reasons helped us, but Rhodesia has no friend and has to fight her battle against all the world and of course the news media.

We considered ourselves superior to the Indian and the negro slaves and gave them no voice in the government and now our government says that Rhodesia must give the negro there an equal vote and the opportunity of taking over the Government in its entirety.

Looking into the future there is little doubt that two other African Negro-controlled countries will try to over run Rhodesia and if they succeed it will in a short time revert to a jungle as in the past.

Bay Stars shine over Oblate Green

A new team, the Bay Stars, exploded Sunday in the Acadiana-Baton Rouge Basketball League as Kiln shooting to a 34-19 half-time lead over Chalmette Green and winding up on top 63-53 with only four men on the floor during the last five minutes, Harry Morris having fouled out and six foot two James Ginn being on the sidelines with a twisted ankle.

Star Larry Favre scored for 20 points followed by Deon Keeney with 10. Brother McCormick hit 18 for the Oblates. Other members of the new team, which replaces Sellers, are Paul Smith, a good floor man, and six foot three U.V. Lehman.

In other games Kiln downed Oblate God in the feature 84-75; top-ranked Tricorps whitewashed White Cypress 75-51 and St. Williams licked Lizonia 77-53.

While Oblate Gold fought Kiln tooth and nail all the way, the Kiln squad, composed of some of the famous Neocles who paced Hancock North Central to the state title a few years ago, got off to a narrow margin and held it throughout, leading 46-40 at the half.

Brother Barthel sparked the Oblates with a wopping 32-point total. Brothers Cwicklik and

Laverna Benigno named OLG homecoming queen

Laverna Benigno, pretty dark-haired daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Benigno, reigned as queen at Our Lady of the Gulf's first homecoming game Sunday afternoon in St. Stanislaus Stadium.

She was escorted during halftime ceremonies by king-for-a-day Edward Favre, member of the football squad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nollie Favre.

Despite a slight drizzle it was excellent football weather, although a little cool for spectators. Our Lady of the Gulf's eleven, coached by Favre and James A. Ryan, played a hard, competitive game featuring some fine running and passing plays but were hard-pressed by their larger opponents, St. James of Gulfport, and lost 20-0.

Queen and maid of honor were Chris Taylor, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. D. Taylor, Pass Christian, and Sally Stetzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stetzel.

Other queens were Jeff Doherty, son of Mrs. M. Doherty; David Worrell, son of J. J. Worrell; John Amos, son of Mrs. John Amos, Jr.; and Joseph Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Richardson.

Maids were Ann Murrough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Murrough; Colleen McClellan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McClellan, Jr.; Karen Buchler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Buchler, and Mary Kristian Franchotwicz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Franchotwicz.

The king and queen were crowned by Rev. James O'Rorke, pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

The royal party was chosen on the basis of scholastic record, achievement, conduct at school and attitude toward the teachers. They were selected by school principal, Sr. Mary Stephen, and members of the faculty. In addition to the king, all dukes were members of the football squad.

and although this is his first movie, he has appeared in many television programs, including Charlie's Angels, Mr. Novak, Bonanza, and The Virginian. Soto also records on the Joe-Ed label. Among the songs he has recorded are Raindrops, Summertime, Me, and No One Will Know. In his spare time, Soto plays with The Tropics, a band also from Houston. Soto completed his high school education at San Jacinto High, located in Houston and is now attending South Texas College, where he is in his third year. When asked what he thought of Bay St. Louis, and the people, he replied, "I think this town and all its people are simply great, and the one thing that impressed me most was that everyone was so co-operative."

Although Soto and the movie company have left us, we have profited by their visit. This experience has shown many people what the stars are really like and has given many a chance to work with them, but most of all it showed us what they go through filming a movie. So to the Paramount Company we say thank you and we hope that you will come back soon to visit us.
